

WFE

December 1988
Volume 11, Number 14

SNAPSHOTS

Tourgate

One thing is perfectly clear: Richard Nixon is not leading tours of crooked D.C. That's an impersonator who, along with a faux Fawn, a double Donna and other fake district denizens, makes the rounds of capital hot spots with Scandal Tours. For $20 the comedy troupe promises Washington's best dirt. Offers "Marilyn Quayle," who appears without her spouse, "As you all know, Dan lives in another century, and that poses scheduling problems."

